

2020 FOOD FORECAST

Transparently Delicious™

NEXT
INSTORE

Next Instore reflects the macro trends that inspire new product development and innovations in food and beverage products.

A Better Us

We all strive for self improvement, so let's start with what sustains us. From clean and clear label options to sustainable packaging and beyond, the food industry is adapting to consumer demand for more personalized nutrition options.

Key Elements

- Plant Based Ingredients
- Personalized Nutrition
- Sustainability
- Functionality

Borderless Taste

Taste has gotten bigger as the world has gotten smaller. Thanks to improvements in global communication along with consumers access to exotic ingredients, cooking techniques and recipes the flavors of the world are more available than ever.

Key Elements

- Regional & Varietal Flavors
- Regional & Functional Ingredients
- Culture Inspired

A Growing Palate

Basic taste has grown up. Flavor profiles that were once avoided or thought too niche for large brands have surprised the market and found commercial success. Taste profiles like bitter, sour and umami, that were once an afterthought, are now active discussions in new product development.

Key Elements

- Fermentation
- Sugar Replacement/Reduction
- Complex Profiles

Toying With Emotions

The integration of online culture and social media has changed the way consumers are interacting with food. Food and drinks that appeal beyond taste and onto an emotional, visual or creative level are flooding social media and in return expanding into foodservice and then landing in retail spaces.

Key Elements

- Mystery Flavors
- Retro Inspired
- Beauty Based
- Mood Enhancement

A Little Off-Base

As functionality continues to change the food and beverage landscape, it has carved an expanding path of consumer flavor interaction and acceptance. The rise of "alternative" products has evolved flavor masking into flavor mimicking finding flavor solutions to fill in the gaps of new products.

Key Elements

- Masking & Modifying
- Mimicking Flavors
- Encapsulation
- Unique Bases
